EOIR Provides New Hearing Location Details

FALLS CHURCH, Va. – As EOIR continues implementation of President Trump’s January 25th Executive Orders, immigration judges will begin to serve details to six locations on March 20th. Immigration judges in these six locations – Dilley, Texas; Jena, La.; Karnes City, Texas; Laredo, Texas; Chaparral, N.M.; and Livingston, Texas – join those already detailed to Adelanto, Calif. and Otay Mesa, Calif.

Information about each of the six locations appears below. Please note that all pleadings and other correspondence for cases assigned to these locations should still be filed with the listed Administrative Control Court, which can also be found at <https://www.justice.gov/eoir/immigration-court-administrative-control-list>. For information about filing procedures and policies, please see the Immigration Court Practice Manual at https://www.justice.gov/sites/default/files/pages/attachments/2016/12/02/practice_manual.pdf#page=44.

— EOIR —

The Executive Office for Immigration Review (EOIR) is an agency within the Department of Justice. Under delegated authority from the Attorney General, immigration judges and the Board of Immigration Appeals interpret and adjudicate immigration cases according to United States immigration laws. EOIR's immigration judges conduct administrative court proceedings in immigration courts located throughout the nation. They determine whether foreign-born individuals – whom the Department of Homeland Security charges with violating immigration law – should be ordered removed from the United States or should be granted relief from removal and be permitted to remain in this country. The Board of Immigration Appeals primarily reviews appeals of decisions by immigration judges. EOIR's Office of the Chief Administrative Hearing Officer adjudicates immigration-related employment cases. EOIR is committed to ensuring fairness in all of the cases it adjudicates.
